The Eco Club along with Department of Environment Science conducted an environmental awareness programme on 4th January, 2023 as a part of students' week programme. The programme was conducted in the college premises. This programme was held in two phases. In the first phase a theoretical programme was performed in Room No. B-115 through the assembly of 150 students and programme in-charge. In the second phase the practical programme was performed by the students in 15 groups comprising 10 students in each group.

The first phase of this programme kicked off with a lecture given by Mr. Parantap Chakraborty, Assist Prof., department of English which moved on to depict the relationship between mother earth and humans. He spoke elaborately on the current ecological challenges and suggested solutions for the same. The lecture given by the principal made the students aware about the consequences of the human actions in exploiting the Earth's resources. The increase in pollution, dumping of wastes and overexploitation are major causes for natural disasters. The major harm done to all parts of society due to dumping of plastic wastes. It reminds about the urgent need for protecting the environment. The programme ended by reminding us our responsibility to protect the environment and to create a world free of pollution.

In the second phase our students have done environment protection and conservation work in their own hand by dividing several groups of students. Some of the groups have cleaned the college campus. Skill Development Program

Motivational Programme on Computer Learning

Programme-in-Charge: Mr. RajibSaha Assist. Prof., Mr.Toimuddin SK (SACT), Mr. Sohel Rana (SACT)

Object of Skill Development Programme: The aim of skill development program is to empower the students by offering necessary skills and training to increase their chances of getting jobs in various sectors. This also boosts an individual's productivity and knowledge. The initiative also aims to educate maximum number of students and create a workforce. Skills development is a process that aims to improve employees' skills and productivity in the workplace. Skills development is also used to help people find jobs and keep them. It helps with employability, productivity, and competitiveness of employees, as well as promoting self-employment.

Our Principal Dr. Alak Kumar Das inaugurate this programme and delivered his lecture on skill development. According to him skill development is like a valuable addition to the life. Everyone needs to be independently capable to earn their own bread and butter for survival in this competitive world. In this rapidly changing world if anyone want to survive by himself then skills are the must. It is important to understand that knowledge does not guarantee skill, practice does. Theory knowledge can give an imaginative structure but only practical knowledge can give a real exposure. Books are sufficient to throw light through someone else thought process but if you need to create own empire student need to come out of their comfort zone and implement their knowledge into the real world.

In this programme we have implemented four certificate courses in Computer namely

- (1) Certificate Course in Basic Computer Application
- (2) Certificate Course in Advance Computer Application
- (3) Certificate Course in Basic Networking
- (4) Certificate Course in Accounting (Tally)

Our Programme-in-Charge Mr. RajibSaha Assist. Prof., Mr.Toimuddin SK (SACT), Mr. Sohel Rana (SACT) and NAAC coordinator, MsFahmeedaGhagelKazmee, Assist. Prof. in English also delivered their lecture on importance on skill development. The motivated them to learn the computer in our Institution. Mr. Ganga Sagar

Rajak, accountant of our college clearly explained the importance of computer learning. According to him computer learning is an important variable for skill development. We cannot progress our life with computer application. Every workplace we found the application of computer. He motivated the students about computer learning.

Domkal Girls' College continues to observe Celebration of Students' Week and today the ICT Cell of the College launched a SKILL ENHANCEMENT COURSE targeting Computer Literacy amongst students and ensuring Vocational Competency with the desirable skill of using computers in the right way. As a teacher I feel privileged and honoured to witness the joy and hope that I saw in the eyes of young female sophomores peopling the hall today.

An excellent conclusion to the Celebration of Students' Week 2-7 January 2023 (as per the vision and order of the Government of West Bengal) as Domkal Girls' College conducted an Awareness Programme on Cyber-Crime and Women Trafficking. The guests/ speakers were Sk. Samsuddin, SDPO Domkal, Mr. Jyotirmay Bagchi, IC, Domkal, Soma Bal, OC Women's Police Station, Berhampore and Shyam Sundar Mishra, BDO, Domkal. The SDPO gave an engaging lecture with a PPT on Cyber Crime: Causes and Prevention that gave us all valuable information regarding cyber safety. The programme was successfully carried out and the female students were particularly excited about the presence of a woman police officer. An inspiration indeed. A special word of thanks for Dr Alak Kumar Das, Principal, Domkal Girls' College, for his guidance and support and also the wonderful staff and students of DGC without whom nothing is possible. Special thanks to Mr. Priyankar Das, Assistant Professor and program officer of NSS TEAM for being prompt and brilliant like always.

Human traffickers often create transnational routes for transporting migrants who are driven by unfavourable living conditions to seek the services of a smuggler. Human trafficking usually starts in origin countries—namely, Southeast Asia, eastern Europe, and sub-Saharan Africa—where recruiters seek migrants through various mediums

The most prevalent form of human trafficking that results in slavery is the recruitment and transport of people into the international sex industry. Sex slavery involves males and females, both adults and children, and constitutes an estimated 58 percent of all trafficking activities. It consists of different types of servitude, including forced prostitution, pornography, child sex rings, and sex-related occupations such as nude dancing and modeling. Forced prostitution is a very old form of enslavement, and recruitment into this lifestyle is often a booming business for purveyors of the sex trade. Victims of sexual slavery are often manipulated into believing that they are being relocated to work in legitimate forms of employment. Those who enter the sex industry as prostitutes are exposed to inhumane and potentially fatal conditions, especially with the prevalence of HIV/AIDS.

Prevention and control of human trafficking

Trafficking is a multinational crime that requires international cooperation, and the United States has taken a lead in promoting intercontinental cooperation. Countries of origin, transit, and destination of trafficking victims are encouraged to adopt minimal antitrafficking standards. These minimal standards consist of prohibiting severe forms of trafficking, prescribing sanctions proportionate to the act, and making a concerted effort to combat organized trafficking.

Foreign governments are to make a sustained effort to cooperate with the international community, assist in the prosecution of traffickers, and protect victims of trafficking. If governments fail to meet the minimum standards or fail to make strides to do so, the United States may cease financial assistance beyond humanitarian and trade-related aid..
