Report on "Puber Alo" Wall Magazine Event

Date: 21st February 2024

Venue: DOMKAL GIRLS' COLLEGE

Event Organized by: Department of Bengali

On the auspicious occasion of International Mother Language Day, the students of Domkal Girls' College came together to celebrate linguistic diversity and the rich cultural heritage embedded in the Bengali language. The focal point of this celebration was the creation and exhibition of a wall magazine named "Puber Alo" (পুবের আলো), an initiative that aimed to showcase the essence of language, literature and creativity.

Objective of the Event:

The primary objective of organizing the "Puber Alo" wall magazine event was to foster a deep appreciation for the Bengali language and literature among the students. It sought to provide a platform for them to express their thoughts, emotions and creativity through the medium of words and visual arts. Additionally, the event aimed to encourage a sense of community and cultural pride, especially on a day that holds immense significance for the Bengali-speaking community worldwide.

Preparation and Planning:

The planning for the event commenced weeks (Notice no. Ref. No. DGC /N/073/2024) before the actual celebration. As the Assistant Professor of Bengali Literature, we worked closely with a dedicated team of students to conceptualize and organize the event. The theme ‘GO GREEN’ chosen for "Puber Alo" was carefully selected to resonate with the spirit of International Mother Language Day, emphasizing the environmental, cultural, historical and literary aspects of the Bengali language.

Students were divided into groups, each assigned specific themes and sections for the wall magazine. The themes ranged from the evolution of the Bengali language to notable literary figures, cultural traditions, and contemporary issues affecting the language. The collaborative effort ensured a comprehensive representation of the multifaceted aspects of Bengali language and literature.

Execution of the Event:

On the morning of 21st February 2024, the entire college buzzed with excitement as students, faculty, and staff gathered around the designated area where the "Puber Alo" wall magazine was to be displayed. The wall magazine spanning a considerable length, featured a captivating blend of prose, poetry, artwork, and eco-friendly materials.

The inaugural ceremony commenced with a brief introduction to the significance of International Mother Language Day and the importance of preserving and celebrating linguistic diversity. The honourable Founder Anisur Rahaman Sir, the honourable Principal Dr. Alok Kumar Das, the college authorities, along with distinguished guests, appreciated the effort put in by the students and faculty in bringing "Puber Alo" to life.

The wall magazine was unveiled with pride and each section was elucidated by the respective student groups. The richness of the Bengali language and its cultural nuances were vividly portrayed through the diverse contributions, showcasing the talent and creativity of the students. The event not only served as an intellectual exercise but also as a visual feast for those in attendance.

Highlights of "Puber Alo":

‘Go Green’ Concept and Bengali Language: One section traced the historical journey of the Bengali language, from its ancient roots to its modern form. It included timelines, linguistic milestones, and noteworthy developments in the language with environmental aspects.

Literary frameworks and Decoration: Another segment paid homage to the literary luminaries who have significantly contributed to Bengali literature. Creative Writings of students, teachers and others college authorities, several quotes, and handmade craft form of students are used for decoration of this part of the wall magazine.

Cultural Traditions: The rich cultural heritage of Bengal was celebrated through vibrant artwork and descriptions of traditional festivals, rituals, and customs. This section aimed to connect the younger generation with their cultural roots.

Contemporary Issues: A thought-provoking portion of the wall magazine addressed contemporary challenges faced by the Bengali language. It sparked discussions on language preservation, linguistic diversity, and the role of the youth in safeguarding their mother tongue.

Community Engagement:

The "Puber Alo" event wasn't confined to the college premises alone. To extend the celebration beyond the campus, students and faculty actively engaged with the local community. A special Lecture and interactive sessions were organized in room no. B/206 by Dr. Pulokesh Mandal (Assistant Professor, A.K. Hazi Khan College, Hariharpara, Murshidabad) to promote awareness about the importance of language preservation and cultural heritage.

The "Puber Alo" wall magazine event emerged as a resounding success, leaving an indelible mark on the minds of all participants. It showcased the immense potential and creativity of the students in portraying the linguistic and cultural wealth embedded in the Bengali language. As an Assistant Professor in Bengali Literature, we take immense pride in the collaborative effort that went into organizing and executing this event, and we believe it has not only enriched the cultural fabric of our college but also instilled a sense of linguistic pride among the students.

Events like "Puber Alo" serve as a testament to the power of language in fostering unity, preserving heritage, and nurturing creativity. As we reflect on the celebration of International Mother Language Day, let us carry forward the spirit of linguistic diversity and cultural pride embedded in our mother tongues.

Acknowledgments:

We extend our heartfelt gratitude to the students, faculty members and staff who contributed to the success of the "Puber Alo" wall magazine event. Special thanks to the Principal Dr. Alok Kumar Das, the college authorities, distinguished guests, and the local community for their support and enthusiastic participation.
