MERITS: The format of the event comprised a series of sessions dedicated to the overall context of the event. The event started positively at 2:00 PM at Room no. B/206 (Smart Room) of the college where the invitees included a motley combination of students, external invitees, faculty members and students of the college. The counselling campaign was commenced by a customary keynote address by the Hon’ble Principal Dr. Alak Kumar Das, Domkal Girls College, on a similar note a salutary address on the tenor of the occasion was delivered by Mr. Priyankar Das, Convenor, NSS unit Domkal Girls’ College. The customary addresses were soon followed by a series of presentations by the external invitees on the fundamentals of career prospects thereby addressing a range of issues concerning career choices, specialization in disciplines, scope offered by both conventional and skill- based education, the emergence of new career domains steered by IT revolution, Artificial-Intelligence, Financial Technology, academics, administration, and private sector. A sequestered session was dedicated to acquaint the students with all the prerequisites of administrative, banking and miscellaneous career paths whereby a holistic presentation concerning the nature, recruitment, aptitude, graphical representation of vacancies, pattern of syllabus etc. for specific exams like WBCS, UPSC, IBPS Banking etc. was thoroughly analyzed. The lecture series attempted to help the aspirants in overcoming their respective cynicisms and inhibitions in terms of choosing a career path that is in perfect harmony with their personal attributes.

EVENT OUTCOME: The successful fruition of the event was substantiated with the active participation of all the invitees along with the departmental students, the interactive session witnessed thought provoking interactions among all the participants and faculty members of the respective department and committees in attendance. The utilization of audio -visual techniques and IT presentations to develop a holistic insight into career prospects among the students received laudable approbation among the audience. The event also marked the invocation of various local female icons and their respective contribution in the domain of freedom struggle, science, technology, art, literature etc. to inspire the girl students to break the supposed glass ceiling in accomplishing their deep-seated aspirations. The experiences and inhibitions expressed by the aspirants helped all the participants in developing a rich insight into the imperativeness of frank exchanges, academic symposiums, and counselling prospects in educational sector across the spectrum of multiple aspirations, preferences, and predilections.
